Romulus, airport accommodate stranded travelers

By ANN PARKER
MCN Special Writer

As a result of an unprecedented attack on the World Trade Center, in New York, and the Pentagon Center, in Washington, DC, Detroit-Wayne County Metropolitan Airport was placed on a lockdown Tuesday, September 11, as was every airport in the country.

Terrorists hijacked and crashed two American commercial airplanes into the World Trade Center, bringing both towers down into piles of rubble.

A third plane crashed into the Pentagon Center, leaving a huge black hole in the building. More than 100 people were killed.

A fourth plane crashed in Pennsylvania, approximately 70 miles northeast of Pittsburgh, traveling on what was determined to be a flight path that could have led it into Washington, DC. Sources say this plane was planning to crash into the Camp David Presidential Retreat, in Maryland.

The results of all the madness - more than 300 innocent people are dead, many more were wounded - the whole world is looking on in shock and fear.

Locally, according to Commander Eric Painter, Romulus police provided additional security around the perimeters of the airport, especially the hotels, merely as means of reassuring travelers not familiar with our community of their safety.

Acting Commander Jim Rafalski said Romulus police were expecting to run into lots of angry travelers, stuck here as a result of their planes being forced down because it was traveling in our air space.

Hotels within the perimeters of the airport did not report an influx of reservations from stranded passengers, though most reported they were prepared to accommodate the needs of all who called.

Just how many local residents have been affected by this disaster - directly or indirectly - is yet to be determined. If you would like to help, please make your donations through the local Red Cross, call 1-800-Give Life or 1-800-Give Blood.

NEWS FROM THE CITY OF WAYNE

Wayne Memorial, Franklin picked for D.A.R.E. test

Research group wants to know if drug program really works

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The controversial D.A.R.E. - Drug Abuse Resistance Education - will come under close scrutiny to see if the program really works, Wayne Police Chief Mike Sumeracki told mayor and council last week.

Wayne Memorial High School and Franklin Middle School in the Wayne-Westland Community School District have been randomly selected as part of a "treatment group" to test the merits of the California-oriented drug-resistance program.

"As you may be aware, earlier this year the D.A.R.E. program received a setback when research showed the program had little impact on teen drug use," Sumeracki informed Wayne Mayor Robert J. Dickerson, council members and a small group of interested citizens.

"As a result, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation awarded the University of Akron Institute for Health and Social Policy $13.7 million to write a curriculum on substance abuse prevention," Sumeracki continued. "The project includes testing and evaluating the effectiveness of the curriculum over a five-year period."

The police chief noted the study will be the most comprehensive and extensive evaluation undertaken of any drug prevention education curriculum - as many as 60,000 students will be tracked for a five-year period.

Sumeracki pointed out that the two local schools were randomly chosen, and the Wayne Police Department and Wayne-Westland School District have agreed to participate in the study.

According to the police chief, all 7th graders attending Franklin Middle School will receive the newly-developed curriculum.

Also, the University of Akron will be using a "blue ribbon" national network of D.A.R.E. officers to present the project's curriculum. Metro Detroit was randomly selected as one of the six research sites, and a high school and all feeder middle schools to that high school in each of 14 different school districts within a 50-mile radius of Detroit will participate.

Seven of those schools and their feeder middle schools will be the "control group," the other seven high schools and their feeder middle schools will be the "treatment group," Wayne Memorial and Franklin fall under the "treatment group" umbrella.

Patrolman Rob Puckett, Wayne's D.A.R.E. program officer, left last week to attend a five-day training session to learn the new curriculum.

"Personally, I am excited for the Wayne Police Department and Wayne-Westland School District to be involved in this ground-breaking study to determine the effectiveness of the D.A.R.E. program," Sumeracki concluded.

Seniors 'Meals on Wheels' to benefit from car show

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Not only can classic car lovers feast their eyes on mint-conditioned vehicles this week, they may also help out seniors who participate in the "Meals on Wheels" program at the same time.

Maple Manor in Wayne is sponsoring a classic car show from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 16, and will donate all proceeds from food sales to the Wayne County "Meals on Wheels" program.

Admission is free to the show.

Maple Manor, which offers 61 apartments for rent to seniors, is located at 3999 Venoy Road, south of Michigan Avenue.

Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara, joined by Mayor Robert J. Dickerson and members of city council, have been strong advocates of the "Meals on Wheels" program.

"This is one of the best programs we offer," McNamara said. "We are proud to serve a million meals to seniors every year, through our home-delivered service and at our congregate sites in 43 communities in Western Wayne and downriver."

Maple Manor officials also are enthusiastic about the upcoming event.

"This is the first time we have held this event," said Bryan Neal, assistant director of Maple Manor. "We chose Wayne County's Meals on Wheels because we felt they provide a great service for seniors."

The Ford Restoration Club plans to have at least 30 cars on display. Visitors should come hungry and enjoy the grilled burgers, hot dogs and beverages.

All proceeds from the food sales will benefit Meals on Wheels. Radio Station WOMC-FC 104.3 plans to broadcast from the event.

For more information about receiving meals or volunteering to deliver meals, call Wayne County's Meals on Wheels at 734-727-7353.

English: No gap in council tapes

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

In response to allegations made by a community activist who accused the administration of intentionally erasing a portion of a city council meeting, the administration last week released its findings to mayor and council.

Community activist Charles Johnson recently accused former Wayne Mayor Ken Warfield of threatening to have him removed from the council chambers and arrested if he did not sit down.

Johnson also alleged that the tape of the meeting was purposely erased so that the former mayor's comments were not heard.

"I reviewed the tape this morning," stated Robert English, assistant City Manager, "and did not find anything on the tape that would substantiate Mr. Johnson's allegations. Mr. Johnson's primary discussion, at the October 19, 1999 meeting, was focused on his belief that the council should have some form of written rules for their meetings."

"He also made several comments regarding how the Mayor was selected by the other council members and not the general public. Shortly afterwards he began discussing the Arbor/CVS ballot issue and the Mayor informed him that he would not allow 'campaigning' to take place in the council chambers and asked Mr. Johnson to wrap up his comments."

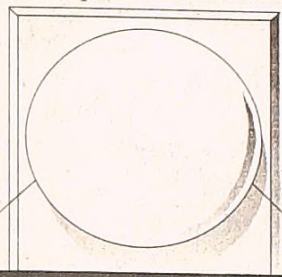

According to his findings, English stated that "at no time did Mayor Warfield threaten to have Mr. Johnson removed from the building or arrested."

English also stated that "...no employee of the city, including myself, has ever or would ever purposely erase a section of a meeting tape."

"The tape has 'no gaps' and shows a smooth transition from speaker to speaker," English informed council.

Minutes away from Metro Airport, I-275 and I-94 X-Ways

Feds should investigate airport, appoint authority with Romulus rep

A lot is being said about Metro Airport, and what should be done, now that several investigations have concluded, and it is apparent a number of improprieties have been revealed.

The Detroit News, which along with this newspaper, has written thousands of words about a noise abatement program gone bad and airport contracts doled out willy nilly to relatives and friends of public officials, has editorialized in favor of turning the investigations over to the U.S. Attorney in Detroit.

They reason, and rightfully so, that the Wayne County Prosecutor's office which is run by County Executive Edward McNamara's former chief of staff, Mike Duggan, and the State Attorney General's office which is headed by McNamara appointee and friend, Jennifer Granholm, would not do the investigation justice.

Would Duggan or Granholm, both who owe their political fortunes to McNamara, be able to turn on their mentor if investigations, indicated McNamara was involved? I highly doubt it.

That's why it belongs in the grasp of newly appointed U.S. attorney, Jeffrey Collins. In his hands, politics are negated, and neither Duggan or Granholm will have to "rat" on their former boss.

Another proposal being tossed about is the implementation of a special Airport Authority, as many municipalities have, to oversee the letting of airport contracts.

This is a no brainer. Again, why would McNamara want this control at this point with all the swirling accusations of improprieties? Why not appoint a five or seven man authority to handle the task?

But even a better idea is to have Romulus representation on that authority. The perception at and around City Hall, is that Romulus is continually pushed around by Wayne County when it comes to airport matters, even though the transportation center sits smack dab in the middle of the city.

In my opinion Romulus officials need to take a more active role in airport matters. At the very least they need to demand one seat on the proposed authority, and maybe even two.

As we have seen with the noise abatement program, which was implemented to help Romulus residents who lived near the airport, and is now under investigation by the Federal Aviation Administration because very little help was forthcoming, the County of Wayne cannot be trusted when it comes to dealing with Romulus residents.

Romulus officials need to step up to the plate and demand accountability. They need to play an active role in championing the cause of Romulus citizens when it comes to dealing with the County.

We must remember that the County had a vastly different agenda than many Romulus residents. They seek to expand and build mightily around the airport. That runs counter to what many lifelong, rural Romulus residents would like to see.

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

Fact is, Plymouth-Canton proposals were a draft

Dear P-CCS Parents, Colleagues and Friends,

Recently, you may have heard such things as "the district is closing elementary schools, eliminating the TAG program, or selling Central Middle School." These things are not true. This information was incomplete, in a first draft form, and not yet distributed by P-CCS for staff and community feedback. I would like you to know the facts.

FACT: Some information circulating has been extracted from this unfinished draft of a vision paper I developed for Board of Education discussion before moving its contents forward into a broad-based community input process. I made a short overview presentation to the Board covering several potential strategic initiatives to be explored. This discussion took place at Wayne RE-SA on August 21, while the Board was in a previously-announced, legally-posted workshop retreat.

Kathryn Booher

The Board members, Deputy Superintendent and one citizen were in attendance.

FACT: The focus of this vision paper is the future of quality education for all students in this district. The philosophy it reflects is a more neighborhood-oriented approach to developing local one-stop school-based services closer to the family home. This means at least three important things:

- positioning our elementary and middle schools nearer the geographic or population center of a collection of contiguous neighborhoods;

- offering at each school a range of educational and child-care services that families desire, possibly including preschool, all-day kindergarten, and a parent choice multiage classroom;

- and, identifying some of the funding for these educational enhancements through reducing physical plant and transportation costs by selling, leasing, or repurposing certain buildings.

FACT: Major initiatives suggested in this vision paper will be reviewed, explored and further developed by one of five Vision Priority Teams of the Long Range

See BOOHER, page A-5

Tomorrow's another school day

Our two greatest 20 century novelists, William Faulkner and Margaret Mitchell, were big on endurance and perseverance.

"Tomorrow is another day," vows Scarlett O'Hara, the defeated heroine of Gone with the Wind, a book that has sold about 30 million copies and continues to sell in the face of politically correct prejudices.

"They endured," said Faulkner of southern blacks living in the days of Jim Crow laws.

In picking the themes of endurance and perseverance, the two authors zeroed in on more than the plot of a good soap opera. They've identified the story line of many real lives.

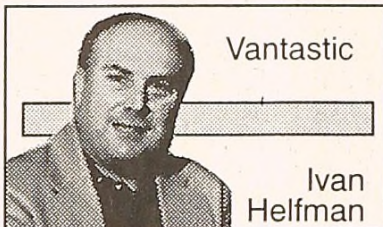

The longer I live, the more I admire the doers — the real-life Scarletts who, in the face of repeated bad fortune, pounce on every new opportunity, giving it all they've got.

The less I admire the thinkers (like Ashley Wilkes, in i)GWTW(r)), who are too smart to twirl in harmony with the world's spin.

There are a lot of smart men and women. But how many of them have been able to slow down the world when it spins out of control?

One group of thinkers who tried to forestall unnecessary death and destruction were the military leaders who tried to save millions of lives in World War II, when President Franklin Roosevelt, advised by Alger Hiss and other Soviet agents instead of veteran state department experts, demanded the unconditional surrender of the Axis power. Though Gen. Dwight Eisenhower proved how easy it was to land in North Africa and enter Italy by negotiating with the large antifascist underground, Roosevelt condemned millions of people, including civilians, to death, and many ancient cities to rubble, by refusing to help Germans, including leaders like Gen. Erwin Rommel, topple Hitler.

The thinkers lost out to two doers, FDR and Joseph Stalin, and millions died so the Soviet Union could seize ten countries in Central Europe and build a nuclear arsenal that could assure the destruction of many American cities.

Vantastic

Ivan Helfman

Meanwhile, Germany has emerged as the leader of Western and Central Europe, while America foots too much of the bill for Germany's defense and former Soviet leader's graft. (The book to read is The New Dealers' War, by Thomas Fleming.)

My point is that when pressed to the max — as Americans were in World War II — History marches on while the best thinkers and planners are no more than bystanders at the parade.

That's why I'm reluctant to get too worked up about "Every Child, Every Family, One Community," a "vision paper" drafted by a slew of Plymouth-Canton educators that has riled a few citizens.

On the upside, the paper proposes to replace the district's randomly sited middle schools with neighborhood ones, and to increase the number of "Talented and Gifted" classes for elementary school students. For someone who has deplored previous school administrations' virtual war of attrition against the hoods and its emphasis on "at-risk" students to the detriment of achievers, I applaud both goals.

On the downside, the paper proposes to deprive students of the historic Central Middle School and its traditions, continue the district's drift away from the three R's and into "a range of educational and child-care services that families desire," and introducing "brain-based learning approaches."

For those of you too busy to follow the issue, the trendy brain-based learning approach to teaching is another swerve away from traditional teaching. While traditional teaching motives students to work hard to learn and think about basic information, brain-based learning tries to teach students how to critically think without having to learn anything or think about it.

To con school boards into swallowing brain-based learning, educators distorted scientific concepts postulated during World War II to help Air Force tail-gunniers shoot down Axis planes in dogfights.

To solve this ballistics problem, the American government rounded up some of the world's greatest scientists, Gregory Bateson, Margaret Mead, Ross Ashby, and others. Their task was to invent a way for our gunners to instantly compensate for the flights of the shells and the movement of combatants' planes.

The scientists decided to create a machine that could learn how to hit a moving target by mimicking how humans' think. After studying the human thought process, they observed that there were different levels of thinking connected by feedback. At the bottom was rote learning, or memorizing. It appeared that as rote knowledge accumulated, another level of thinking was created by feedback from rote learning. On the higher level, the thinker made connections between what he had memorized.

Feedback from the second level, created a third level, where the thinker learned about the connections that arose from the second level. Feedback from the third level created a fourth level, and so on.

The whole theory was based on feedback working up from rote. Weapon makers took the theory and developed compensating sites. Soon American planes began winning the dogfights and eventually the air war.

Educators took the theory, stole the concept of critical thinking levels, and divorced it from rote learning. In its place they placed any expensive gimmick they could slip by gullible school boards.

Consequently, future Plymouth-Canton students will be forced to endure brain-based learning and to persevere through life without a solid grounding in reading and arithmetic. (No wonder that a disproportionate number of university math, science, and engineering students were traditionally educated abroad.)

To which school board members respond with the words of Rhett Butler in GWTW: "My dear, I don't give a damn."

Return of debtors' prisons

The Michigan State Supreme Court has floated a proposal reminiscent of the debtors' prisons in England in the era of Charles Dickens. The proposed rule would require judges to jail defendants who did not pay fines levied "on the spot" unless they could prove inability to pay. The jailing would be ordered under judges' powers to cite individuals for "contempt of court."

The court may have shot itself in the foot on this one. There is already an ongoing debate on whether the legislature should set rules for court procedures rather than the Supreme Court which is the current practice.

Concurrently, there is mounting concern over abuse of the contempt power by a relatively few judges. Recently a local man, a retired police officer, (who was sitting quietly observing the proceedings) was jailed for nearly a month for wearing a shirt with a politically incorrect slogan on it. The judge, rather than just evicting the man, sentenced him to a month in jail charged with "criminal contempt."

The rationale for the court's proposed rule is to accelerate collection of fines as well as increase the percentage of fines paid. Two courts in Northern Michigan adopted the procedure on a trial basis and reported collection of 85% of fines levied.

Medium Rare

It is claimed that millions of dollars in traffic fines go uncollected each year. Could the fact that a portion of fines paid goes into judges' retirement funds be a part of the motivation?

To their credit, the Michigan Judges' Association and the Michigan State Bar's committee on legal aid have opposed the proposal. However, two other state bar committees support the rule, as do some judges.

In most jurisdictions, the current practice is to allow defendants to pay off fines over the period of probation when imposed by the court. Current law also provides for fines not paid within 180 days to be turned over to the State Treasurer to be deducted from state income tax refunds.

According to the Detroit News, Supreme Court spokesperson Marcia McBrien said, "the proposed rule was not intended to punish or incarcerate impoverished defendants." She further stated, "You can not constitutionally imprison someone for their inability to pay. I mean that is the stuff of Dickens' novels." One wonders where she will be working next week.

In Michigan, State Supreme Court Justices stand for re-election. (Most are initially appointed by the governor following resignations from the court.) Not yet disclosed is which justices support this proposal and whether or not it was unanimous. Voters will obviously be interested in that information which should be taken into consideration in this fall's elections.

The legislature should also seriously consider laws to curtail the contempt powers of judges as well as codifying court procedures rather than letting the courts make their own rules. Constitutional guarantees of due process and freedom of speech are being threatened by the abuses of a few arrogant judges.

SOUND OFF EXTRA

Wayne City Clerk! Where are your 2001 city council minutes?

This call concerns the city of Wayne's city clerk office as it relates to council meetings.

For some strange reason, there are no minutes beyond January 2001, even though we are in the ninth month.

Could it be because it is the political season and we don't want the citizens of Wayne to see what has been voted on, voted for or voted against?

Please tell the city clerk to update her minutes. She's behind by eight months.

Matich surprised to see his name on wrong endorsement

I recently visited the web site of Richard LeBlanc, which he is using for his campaign run for Westland Mayor. I was shocked to see my name appear as an endorsement as I am actively supporting Emery Price for Mayor.

Appearing on that web site has caused friends and acquaintances to question my integrity. The damage has been done and may be irreversible. I would now question the names that appear as endorsements (Do they know they are on the list?).

For the people that know me, I support Emery Price for Mayor, and my name was used without my knowledge on Richard LeBlanc's web site.

Mike Matich, Westland police officer

'Terrible' editorial serves as 'driveling' campaign material

I've been reading your paper for five years. I've vowed never to bring it home again after reading Ivan's driveling.

He should stick to the facts. He seems to be campaigning for a certain candidate instead of reporting the facts. If that's true, he should call himself that candidate's campaign manager instead of a journalist.

He should title his editorial "Ivan the Terrible" instead of "Vantastic."

Recall was to prevent mayor from keeping council in his pocket

Here we go again! We get rid of one mayor and his four cronies on the council, and here come Richard LeBlanc and his slate.

It's no secret (to me) that he has promised to help Mike Kehrer, Mario Gracin, Normie Brazier, and Cheryl Graunstadt on their campaigns in return for their votes if elected.

It's no secret that LeBlanc plans to clean house if elected, and he will need four council votes to get his appointees in place.

What was the recall for? Does anybody besides me think the mayor shouldn't have the council in his back pocket? [Response to this Sound Off, which appeared on-line, is below.]

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Bye, Bye, Sara Lee!

To the editor:

Well, seems like old Sara Lee got her way and dumped a whole lot of nice people unceremoniously on the street without so much as a by-your-leave.

None of this closing of the store information was done in person, nor in a timely manner; it was all done the coward's way, by fax. And, to add insult to injury, the lead clerk from Flint, one Rebekah Salsgiver, came to the Canton store last week to 'instruct' the ladies there to tear down the shelves.

These are sales clerks, not muscle men. When advised that there were no tools, Ms. Becky showed them how to unscrew and pry the shelving apart using, of all things, a butter knife! Hasn't Ms. Becky, or Sara Lee for that matter, heard of OSHA? Is this the way things are done there?

I bet if Ms. Becky brings tools, she won't bring safety glasses. The ladies were told by Ms. Becky that if they didn't take the shelving down, they would not get their unemployment checks.

Well, that didn't frighten the ladies one bit, because try as they may, they could not get an address from Ms. Becky nor from Gerald Dossin, in the HR department, to give to MESC.

Mr. Dossin or his secretary were quite adept at slamming the phone down on the ladies when they found out who was calling. The ladies pay union dues and are part of the union, which is, most likely, the underlying reason that Sara Lee is getting rid of them, because, as I understand it, the people who run the Sara Lee thrift stores are not unionized. Where is the ladies union steward? Asleep at the wheel in Taylor, I'm afraid.

Thanks to the shoppers who came in to sign the petition. There were almost 1,000 signatures garnered in four days and they were presented to the Sara Lee office, pleading them to keep the store open or even move to another location, but that fell on deaf ears. No response was forthcoming from Scrooge Lee.

Ms. Becky said that the store didn't do enough business. It is one of the more profitable ones and could be more so in a more visible location. There is no advertising done for these thrift shops, it's mostly done by word of mouth.

She also said that the 1,000 customers who came in to sign the petition (the 1,000 people in four days all bought items, mind you) should all have spent at least $5 each. Yeah, Ms. Becky has a heart all right, only she left it in her other web. Sara Lee also has a heart. They don't always think of money, they think of their customers and, I think, how to part them from their money, even if they have to make them drive further away.

The next closest store is in Garden City, way too far for these senior citizens, day care facilities and fixed income people to go. Does Sara Lee care? Not a twit!

The last few days before the store closed was like a wake, people coming in to say their tearful good byes, hugs all around, and the old people and low-income folks wondering where they will go to shop, with their fixed incomes they can't afford much. Who will share their happiness, heartaches, listen to their stories or just listen to them. We have lost much more than a place to shop, we have lost our Mayberry, our Camelot, our ray of sun on a dreary day.

Way to go Sara Lee, I certainly hope that the stores you do have open will be boycotted. I know I plan to do so, and so do some of the others. I hope everyone boycotts you. To say you have done a disservice to the community is a gross understatement.

You can open another location in the area, it's not a matter of finding a vacant building that has more traffic, it's a matter of finding it in your heart to serve the people like you should be doing, and stop being so self-serving. Riding closely on the heels of your tainted meat fiasco, you would think that you would want to polish your image instead of tarnish it. To me and many others, like your meat, your image is rotten. These ladies gave you 5-plus years of service and you are giving them crumbs and a cold shoulder. Open a new location and become service oriented like you were and should be. You can still redeem yourself.

Until then, it's Boo to you Sara Lee, Boo to you Rebekah Salsgiver, and a big Boo to you too Gerald Dossin.

A pox on you all!

Planning Committee to be launched this fall; by the Long Range Planning Committee itself; or, in the case of school expansion, closure or construction proposals, by a broad-based community project inviting much staff and community participation.

FACT: This Vision Paper proposes or explores strategic initiatives for most support divisions of the schools operations, all focused on how to best support high quality teaching and learning. For instance, finance initiatives are designed to channel an ever higher percentage of district revenues into classrooms; human resource initiatives are designed to hire and nurture the best possible employees to work with kids; and facilities initiatives are designed to create schools that are community centers where students have access to equitable learning opportunities.

FACT: This paper recommends an expansion of the elementary program for gifted and talented children in order to serve approximately 50% more students than currently. In doing so, identified gifted and talented students would also be able to remain in their home schools with their siblings and neighborhood friends, rather than ride shuttle busses every day to yet another location. The money and time currently allocated daily to transporting these children would be directed back into their education.

FACT: The facilities section of this vision paper invites an examination of several potential facility changes that would be explored through a broad-based community dialogue. Among the changes to be explored would be establishing some of our elementary schools as 600-student, pre-K through grade 5 elementary schools and converting one southerly-located elementary school to a middle school.

FACT: This vision paper does not recommend that the district sell Central Middle School; it recommends that the building be repurposed, that is, developed to serve purposes other than its current one. In this paper I recommend that the district extend an invitation for community and/or business partners to join us in an alliance to define new purposes for this large building which might meet several community needs. These might include establishing a senior center, a recreational facility, and even a parent choice magnet school. Magnet philosophies we are very interested in include the brain-based learning approaches and the well-regarded and rigorous International Academy program.

FACT: This paper recommends selling or leasing certain buildings, but this does not mean the programs or services in those buildings would be discontinued. Instead, they would be relocated to other buildings.

FACT: The contents of this vision paper do not constitute a master plan or a done deal. My opening comments fully invite exploration and discussion. Specifically, I describe the paper as an outline to be further developed by members of the larger community. This intent is captured in the paper's title "Every Child, Every Family, One Community." Through the selection of this title, my staff and I intend to communicate how profoundly we believe that the good of every child in P-CCS will be served by every family joining arms together as one single learning community.

FACT: The final draft of Every Child, Every Family, One Community will be a primary tool for Long Range Planning work and will be available in all our buildings before Oct. 15.

The premature dissemination of this unfinished material has been unfortunate for the friends of this school district in several ways. It has been unfair to the Board whose role it is as the elected officials to plan for effective governance. It has been unfair to teachers, principals, and other administrators and employees who received questions they were unable to answer because they simply did not have this information yet. It has been unfair to students and their parents in that it has created alarm. The vision captured in this paper forecasts many years out, and several of the facilities changes suggested would be years in the making. All who want to participate in the dialogue about the district's future will have an avenue for doing that. As its title reflects, this entire set of strategic initiatives is for and about "Every Child, Every Family, One Community."

Thank you for taking the time to read these facts. Remember, too, that other incomplete information may surface before the final draft of this paper is finished.

NEWS FROM THE CITY OF INKSTER

A File for Life

Have you received your personalized "File for Life"? Recently, fire and the Office of Senior Services officials conducted a registration sweep that provided local seniors will a file of their medical history to be used in case of an emergency. Above, Lt. Gary Bosak of the Inkster Fire Department, volunteered to register seniors. Fire Investigator/Public Relations Administrator Robert Roths, Jr., stresses that the File of Life should be placed in a convenient place - attached to the refrigerator, if possible, so that if EMS teams are summoned they would have the pertinent health data of the patient. "It could save a life - your life - in a case of an emergency," Roths said. Photo by Theola Jones

Local residents flock to housing rehab program

Inkster Community Development officials this week said that a recent article that appeared in the local newspaper on Housing Rehabilitation has "stirred quite a lot of interest in the community."

"We want to remind citizens that the assistance program is ongoing and that if there are others out there who missed the information the first time around, they should contact our department," said Clarence Oden.

Oden pointed out that the City of Inkster, through its Community Development Department is providing Housing Rehabilitation Assistance to low and very low-income families.

A deferred loan in an amount up to $25,000 is available to make repairs to bring owner-occupied homes up to city code and Section 8 Housing Quality Standards.

"Additionally, assistance will be provided to address the newly-established lead-based paint Federal Guidelines in relationship to the repairs being made on a home.

"Emergency assistance may also be provided under 'urgent needs' to eliminate existing conditions that are an immediate threat to the health and safety of the occupants," said Oden.

Funds for the program are being made available through the Wayne County Community Development Department Block Grant Program.

For further information, please contact Oden or Kimberly Boris at 313-563-9760.

Westwood to offer building trade class

With the land and building secured, a Westwood Community School District school official last week said that the school district will offer at-risk students, ages 18 and 19, a building trade's class this year.

Ernestine Fowler-Purdie requested from mayor and council that they approve the purchase of city-owned property located at 3658 Springhill for the sum of $1.

The site and the building would be rehabilitated by the students who would gain vital trade marketing skills from professional builders. When the house is completed, the school district would put the house up for sale and when sold, the city and the school district would share in the profits.

Profits from the house would be returned to the schools to perpetuate the program.

"The students will work under the supervision of Mitchell Baylock Contractors," Purdie informed city council. "They will be at the work site three days a week and in the classroom two days. After the renovation is complete and the property sold, the district will donate 50 percent of the net profits to the city of Inkster and 50 percent will be returned to the school district," stressed Purdie, the secretary of the Adult, Alternative and Community Education program.

Carron Classic raises $10,000 for Kidney Foundation

They turned out in the thousands and dug deep in their pockets and collectively came up with approximately $10,000 for the National Kidney Foundation during the inaugural Carron Classics NKF's fundraiser.

Carron Classics' CEO and President Tim Megge, who himself is a kidney donor, was the architect of the fundraiser.

"It's important to give back to those we love, to our community and to society, and I believe this is just one way we can do that," said Megge afterwards. "I just want to thank everyone who participated in this fundraiser, and we're looking forward to doing this again next year."

Carron Classic and Industries, a Inkster-based corporation, joined WXYTWWJ in sponsoring the project.

Approximately 1,400 people attended the program, staged in the street, which featured over 200 classic cars, entertainment and excellent food.

One of the cars, donated by Megge, was offered as a prize and Scott Doyle, of Oakland County, was declared the winner. Scott and his wife, Denise, drove off in a classic GTO.

Megge also said that Tom Ryan, from WOMC, was named the recipient of "The First Annual Dancing in the Street to Help Fight Kidney Disease" award. He donated a kidney to his wife two years ago.

"This award will be presented to an individual each year who is actively involved in the world of classic cars as well as the work of the Kidney Foundation," Megge noted.

Megge said he also wanted to thank "the Dearborn Heights and Inkster Police Department for the assistance - this event was orderly and the evening went well and was without incident," Carron's CEO said.

There were other notable activities in the street - a Diamond Hunt and Barstool Racing. In the hunt, Les Gold of Detroit donated 199 cubic zirconium and 1 1/2 carat diamond. For $10, a participant picked for the diamond and received a glass of champagne. Lucky winner was Mary Pierson, who walked away with the stunning 1/2 carat diamond.

Carron Industries and National Kidney Foundation volunteers helped set up, tear down and man the booths throughout the evening complete liberty to attack, and lie because they do not have to be held accountable for their slander.

I can tell you with complete knowledge that candidates Gracin, Brazier and Kehrer are not being supported at this time by any mayoral candidates. The only candidate listed in that little snippet who is being supported by LeBlanc is Graunstadt.

However, I do not recall at time when council candidates were held to be in someone's pocket merely because they were being supported. Are you then saying that Graunstadt is in Godbout's pocket or Anderson's pocket because they did indeed endorse her?

Draw your own conclusions, but do so based on fact. The other three candidates are independent candidates running their own campaign.

One has supported LeBlanc publicly for years, and probably for very good reason, as he appears to be most qualified and honest, the others have not publically endorsed Mr. LeBlanc. Get your facts straight if you're going to write Sound Offs. Either that or print your name so we'll all know the reasons behind your slander.

Caller rates Westland mayoral and city council candidates

After watching the candidates on WLND, I would like to offer this thought. Mayoral candidate Cicirelli appeared to be reading and casting her eyes to the side most of the time, which is alright, but after having been a candidate so often, and having so much experience, why?

Price was out of his element, clearly the lesser of the three candidates, is that what we want?

LeBlanc, as usual, was articulate and commanding with clear vision for our city, but take it easy on promises; we all know where that can lead you.

The council candidates, well, most were nervous, and that is understandable considering they are all basically new to the game of politics — a relief to this voter.

Eadeh should have been better, considering he's been on council for a year; and all these "programs" he wants to establish concern this taxpayer.

Mrs. Smith, although consistent in her campaigns, surely should retire, especially considering her health.

Graunstadt, well prepared, written speech, promises promises, whine whine, but still worth a thought or two.

Gracin, clearly the most nervous, but he didn't make promises, noteworthy. I for one am sick of the read-my-lips mentality. Sincerity too. Got my vote.

Kehrer, strong and confident, not too many promises, definite vote.

Underwood, who is he? Should stay retired. Rintz, an attorney. Says enough for me.

Wild? Junkyard dog, part of the old, no vote from me, since I want the new, add that to his clear misunderstanding of his union endorsements. AFL-CIO? Did he even attend his screening? Rumor is, he probably didn't, though I don't know for sure. In the version I heard, a call came from [name deleted for lack of proof] and — who knows? — an endorsement appeared.

Brazier, soft spoken, intelligent, fills the need for a woman on council, just need to get past the too-soft issue, but a possible vote.

If you haven't watched, clue yourself in, take notes.

Voter fears that a vote for Mario Gracin is a vote for Brenda

I have one concern, is a vote for Mario Gracin a vote for his wife? She is too pushy for me.

Nothing democratic about Westland Democratic Club

I attended the Democratic Club meeting Mrs. McKinney spoke of. I can say I am completely ashamed of that organization and what they attempted to do.

The only people stomping their feet, hollering and turning blue in the face were the people who attempted to (for the first time I might add) individually vote against a new member based on that person's political affiliation.

I was taken aback when this person spoke apparently from her heart about that party affiliation, and the fact that in this city they always vote democratic and wanted to help "all" the candidates endorsed by the club win election.

Add that to the fact that I know personally of a few recent additions to this club that are Republicans, known Republicans, and were not voted on individually. Those people didn't come forward and admit their party affiliation, but came disguised as Democrats, although they supported heavily Republican candidates in the last national elections.

A speech by a well-known local politician about being a Democratic club and therefore allowing only Democrats to join was slightly hypocritical as he supports solidly a known Republican. Add that to the fact that the person being voted on made some of us aware of the Republican signs in Democratic club members yards, makes the entire episode disgusting.

I apologise sincerely from the bottom of my heart to that person, actually I should say persons, because another was also subjected to the same treatment. I also remind club members that not two years ago, a group entered our club, joined and proceeded to remove our president, and make sure they gained endorsement for their candidate, yet these very same people were attacking these new members as trying to take over their club.

Tsk, tsk and tsk on Mrs. McKinney for not writing truth. Hopefully the club members who were being fair and voted in these new members will speak out as to who was really stomping their feet and throwing temper tantrums. It certainly wasn't the people being voted on, although they had every right to do so.

What an embarrassment to our club, to our community and to what should be our ultimate endeavor, to hopefully convert other party members to the Democratic party. There was nothing democratic about that meeting. I hope those who stomped out stay out. I commend Mrs. Greenfield for her courage in supporting these people, especially when it is well known that Mrs. Greenfield is a matriarch of Democratic politics in Westland. Some of you should have followed her lead. What a lady — Westland Democratic Club Member

Canton moves victory closer to showdown Destiny and No. 1 ranked Harrison await Chiefs

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Plymouth-Canton moved one victory closer to an apparent showdown with Farmington Hills Harrison.

After its third straight blowout, a 49-0 triumph over a highly-touted Northville Friday night, coach

Tim Baechler and the Canton Chiefs erased any doubts in anyone's mind that they have a date with destiny on Friday when they entertain none other than the state's No. 1 ranked team in Harrison.

Canton, which has never won the conference football title, will square off with the awesome Harrison, a team that has won three consecutive, and a dozen state championships, in a Western Lakes, Western Division game, that will decide who's on first.

The kick-off in Canton is at 7:30 p.m.

Neither team has been challenged thus far this season.

To tune up for the pending showdown, the Chiefs buried Northville 49-0 for victory No. 3.

Northville contributed to its own demise as they committed fatal early turnovers that resulted in Canton scores.

Canton's secondary picked off three misguided Northville passes and also recovered a fumble deep in Northville territory. The Canton defense was led by Todd Skirkman, who had seven tackles, and Matt Bennett, who accounted for six.

Northville could not adjust its defense to stop running back Reggie Joyner and senior back Dane Kobus, who provided large chunks of the 441 yards compiled by the Chiefs.

Kobus had 95 yards on 13 carries, while his teammate Joyner finished with a game-high 128 yards on 11 attempts.

Northville remained in the game until the final three minutes of the first half when the Chiefs put up three touchdowns on the board to turn what was billed as a "tough game" into a runaway.

Glenn, Wayne win 'must' games

Cummings continues to seek 1st win

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

After three frustrating weeks, Coach Bob Cummings continues in his search to find his first victory as head coach at Plymouth-Salem.

And, Friday night, he and his Rocks take on an excellent Westland John Glenn ball club which will have a Parents' Night crowd on hand for the Western Lakes, Lakes Division game, and it won't be an easy one for Cummings and his Rocks.

"Glenn is a well-coached, always-tough competitor," said Cummings Sunday night after the Rocks lost their third in a row, a 35-14 decision to North Farmington on Friday.

"They (Glenn 2-1) have so many weapons—they pass and run well and they don't make many mistakes. We still have to put four quarters together, something we haven't been able to do so far this year."

Salem looked listless in the first half against an unheralded North team that struck for two first half touchdowns and led 21-6 after three quarters.

The Rocks managed to cut North's lead midway in the third quarter when senior running back Myron Covington scored Salem's initial TD of the game on a 15-yard sprint.

Covington's TV capped a 75-yard, 12-play drive engineered by senior quarterback Scott Hewitt.

The Rocks opted to go for the two-point conversion, and their attempt fell short.

Covington figured in the Rocks' second and only other score, and that one went up on the scoreboard early in the fourth quarter. He plowed through the middle of the North line from two-yards out.

Covington was the mainstay of the Salem offense as he piled up 90 yards on 22 carries and two TDs.

Hewitt contributed 122 yards on a five of 12 passing performance.

Cummings felt that his team matched up with North and was looking for a win.

"But we didn't play well in the first half," the Salem coach said. "In the third quarter, we woke up but unfortunately it was too late to overcome our sluggish start."

Seventeen-year-old Eric Rose displays the power of a trained body and mind as he splits cinder blocks. His ability has earned him an invitation to compete for the U. S. Junior Black Belt team at the Pam American Games.

Young Black Belter on U.S. team roster

A young and dynamic Wayne athlete has been named to the U. S. Junior Black Belt Team.

Eric Rose, who has a long-list of achievements as a member of the KICKS Tae Kwon Do and Fitness Centers, Inc. organization, has been named to the U.S. Tae Kwon Do Union's Junior Black Belt Team.

Rose will represent the United States in Tae Kwon Do competition in Black Belt, light-middle division.

Zebras stop T-birds, 18-7, take on Woodhaven next

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

After what he called was an embarrassing loss to Dearborn, Wayne Memorial coach Floyd Carter said that his team would be back.

And it was - in full strength, ready to play.

Friday night the Zebras (2-1) jolted Edsel Ford 18-7 for their first Mega-White Division victory of the season.

"These kids have pride. The loss to Dearborn shook them up as much as it did me," Carter said during a Sunday evening interview. "I was proud at the way they regrouped and came back. They got the job done against an excellent Edsel team."

For game No. 4, Wayne will travel to Woodhaven, a team that also boasts a 2-1 record, and is coming off of a heartbreaking, 7-6, loss to Taylor Truman.

"We are going to need another outstanding team effort to stop this team," warned Carter. "We can't afford any mistakes."

One Wayne Memorial player who turned in a near flawless performance against Edsel's T-Birds on offense was a sophomore by the name of T.J. Dillard.

Dillard accounted for all three of the Wayne touchdowns and he rushed for a career high 198 yards in 19 attempts.

"T.J. is a good one and we're looking for great things from him," Carter commented.

It took Dillard the first quarter to really warm up.

With 10:35 on the clock in the second quarter, the sophomore running back broke loose on a 49-yarder for the first of his 3 TDs. That score came after Wayne's defense, led by Chris Cox and Jimmy Brucker, forced the T-Bird to punt from their own 16.

In less than five minutes, with 6:18 left to halftime, Dillard again came through. This time he finished off an 87-yard drive with a 68-yard touchdown play.

The key play in the series included a lateral from Nelson Gaines to Dillard after the primary receiver got the pass from David Cicotte.

The Zebras made it an 18-0 game with Dillard's third TD of the game - a 60-yard run at 10:37 of the third quarter.

Edsel Ford averted the shutout thanks to an 81-yard, 17-play drive midway in the fourth quarter that ended with QB Mike Welsh's one-yard sneak. Fahd Saleh kicked the extra point.

Wayne also received an excellent effort from James McLeod, who rushed for 53 yards on 11 attempts. Teamwise, Wayne racked up 275 yards on 40 rushing plays as compared to the T-Birds' 27 attempts and 8 total yards.

Cicotte attempted three passes and completed one for 68 yards and a touchdown. On the other side of the line, Welsh completed eight of 28 passes for 121 yards.

On defense, Wayne received outstanding efforts from Michael Rashad, who had a total of nine tackles; Brucker finished with 12 as did Cox.

Cox and Andrew Parks each had a sack.

Rockets edge Stevenson, host Salem on Parents' Night

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

After an ego-shattering loss to Northville the week before, Glenn coach Chuck Gordon said that Livonia Stevenson was one of those "must" games for his Rockets.

The Rockets didn't disappoint him or John Glenn football fans.

The Westlanders came through, 15-7, to start the Western Lakes, Lake Division phase of the 2001 season on target.

And with winless Plymouth-Salem scheduled to come to Glenn Stadium Friday night, the Rockets now have an opportunity to improve their record to 3-1.

Salem has not played up to first-year coach Bob Cummings' expectations in its three outings.

But Gordon doesn't expect the Rocks to roll over for them, either. "There is too much tradition in-involved between our two teams," says Gordon. "It will be a hard-hitting game all the way. Believe me."

Glenn drew first blood against Stevenson, a team that has given the Rockets fits in the past. And it looked like a typical Stevenson-Glenn match up as the two battled to a draw most of the first quarter.

The scoreless tie was broken with 48 seconds left in the initial quarter as Glenn running back Anthony Harrell took a handoff from quarterback Brian Ceckiewicz and found a hole on the right side and blew past the defenders, and he didn't stop until he had gone 33-yards and across the Spartan goal line.

Andrew Peiffer booted the extra point and Glenn had a 7-0 lead.

But Stevenson came back and tied the score midway in the second quarter when the Spartans managed to put together a sustained drive that culminated in fullback Jacob Proctor's one-yard TD lunge.

It was again back to basic defense in the third quarter and neither team threatened until early in the fourth when Glenn cashed in on a bad Stevenson snap and equally poor punt that eventually set up a safety.

Up 9-7, the Westlanders scored an insurance TD midway in the final period as tailback De'Anthony Granberry set up the Rocket score with a 29-yard run to the Stevenson one.

On the next play from scrimmage, Ceckiewicz took the ball in on a sneak and Peiffer kicked his second PAT.

Ceckiewicz is still having problems finding his receivers as he completed only three of 16 tosses for 47 yards. The defense received outstanding efforts from Brandon Ajlouny who had one interception, linebacker Craig Lewis and Nick Seymour.

Toss out the records: It's Robichaud vs. Inkster Kyles wins his first as Vikings coach

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It may be a cliché, but "tossing out the records", definitely describes the situation when two natural rivals, such as Inkster and Robichaud, meet on the gridiron or any other field of competition.

And, on Friday, at Robichaud, the traditional rivalry resumes.

Robichaud has dropped its first three games, while Inkster won big last week at the expense of Dearborn Heights Annapolis.

First-year Viking coach Troy

Kyles got his first victory, 32-0, and he was elated.

"You always wonder about that first one," said Kyles. "Now that we have it under our belts. I am happy...happy for the kids and staff."

What about No. 2, coach?

"We're heading for Robichaud Friday afternoon, and it's not going to be easy. You can bet they will be ready for us. There's a saying in these parts that the outcome of that game means more to these kids than all of the rest of the games combined."

Is that right, Coach Medlock?

"I don't know about that," responded the Robichaud coach.

"But, yes, you can forget about records when our two teams meet. We all know what's at stake - pride, neighborhood rivalry, and yes, I am looking for a hard-fought, physical game."

And, for the first time in recent years, it is Robichaud which enters the game as the underdog.

Inkster is coming off of an impressive 32-0 victory over the Cougars of Annapolis. It provided coach Kyles and the Vikings (1-2) their first Mega Conference, Gold Division, victory of the 2001 campaign.

Running back Ron Perry led the Viking assault against Annapolis as he scored two touchdowns, rushed for 246 yards on 18 attempts. Perry scored his first TD on a 21-yard sprint, then came back with a 43-yard TD run late in the second quarter.

In the third quarter, the Vikings also scored when quarterback Brandon Dawson and Jason Buckner combined on an eight-yard strike. Chris Larkins' 14-yard, off tackle, run accounted for the fourth and final Viking score.

Larkins also stood out on defense as he amassed 13 tackles and he also separated the ball from two would-be Annapolis halfbacks, causing fumbles. He recovered one of them.

Larkins' teammate Eric Casey also carded eight solos. The defensive end was credited with two sacks of the quarterbacks. Cornerback Jrhontz Minnifield deflected three passes.

Dawson also looked good in the pocket as he connected on five of 10 passes for 110 yards and two touchdowns.

"If we can build upon this momentum, we may make it into the playoffs," stressed Kyles.

And that would be a first for the Vikings.

In the meantime, Robichaud apparently couldn't generate any kind of momentum against Highland Park. The Bulldogs dropped a 42-16 decision Friday to the Parkers and have failed to find their way into the victory column

this season.

What's the problem, coach?

"We came out flat and Highland Park came to play," replied Medlock. "In fact, they had us down 34-0 after the first quarter. When you dig a hole that deep it's hard to dig yourself out."

At least, Robichaud quarterback Joe Claybron tried. He scampered 75 yards after breaking through the middle of the Parkers' line for the Bulldogs' first TD. The senior Robichaud QB also fired a 15-yard TD pass to Dave Thomas for the second Robichaud score.

But that is about all the Bullods could generate against a Highland Park team that some say is destined to win it all in the Mega-Gold this season.

Medlock did receive some outstanding performances from a selected few on defense: Senior defensive end Marcus Johnson had a grand total of 15 solo tackles. Did we forget to mention that it was Johnson who crashed through Highland Park's line for the two-point conversion?

Claybron also rushed for 160-yards on would-you-believe two carries?

"After that horrendous first quarter, our kids settled down and played outstanding defense," said Medlock.

for the inaugural Pan American Games. The Games will be held from Sept. 19-22 in Santiago, Chile. Rose will go directly from the training center to Chile and return home on Sept. 24.

Rose trains locally at KICKS Tae Kwon Do and Fitness Centers, Inc., in Wayne. His parents have operated the local Tae Kwon Do studio in Wayne since 1977.

Eric has three brothers who have all earned Black Belts and assist in the KICKS classes.

"We are very proud of Eric and what he has accomplished with his life," said Mrs. Rose, Eric's mother.

Eric first had to compete in the state competition to qualify for National competition in Tae Kwon Do. In July of this year, he won a bronze medal in the 21st Junior Olympic Championships held in Tampa, Florida.

He is also an international champion who has won numerous trophies and medals in the sport.

Rose is also preparing to compete at the KTAA National Championships which will be held on Oct. 13 at Romulus High School. On Oct. 14, Eric will compete in the seventh annual World Chung Do Kwan Championships. Several countries have been invited and their representatives will compete for the title of international champ.

A senior at Plymouth-Canton High School, Rose plans to attend Eastern Michigan University. Eric will turn 17 on Sept. 19, the day he is scheduled to fly to the Pan American Games.

Wayne seeks spikers

Wayne Parks and Recreation officials announced this week that they are accepting registration for Women's Volleyball teams for the upcoming fall season.

Team managers may register their teams from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. at the Wayne Community Center, 4635 Howe Road. There is a $240 per team registration fee, and there is no residency requirements.

All games will be played on Monday nights, and the season opener is scheduled for Nov. 6.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Inkster holds off Harrison for win No. 24

North next for Vikings

The incredible Inkster basketball machine continued to grind out victories.

The undefeated Vikings posted victories No. 23 and No. 24, but coach Dave Mann's ball club showed that they are vulnerable as Farmington Hills Harrison made the Vikings sweat before falling, 53-40, on Saturday.

"We had to go into a zone," said Mann after the game. "They were getting inside and causing us problems."

Few teams have caused the Vikings concern since Mann took over the program two years ago. The Vikings were 20-0 a year ago, but were denied a post-season playoff berth because of MHSAA sanctions. (Inkster was put on a three year probation reportedly for using ineligible players in football.)

With Khadigrian Murphy pumping in nine points in the first period, Inkster jumped out in front, 14-8, but Jessica Condini and Maggie Condini sparked a Harrison rally that carried the visitors to within a basket, 21-19, of erasing the deficit.

Inkster outscored Harrison 16-11 to widened the margin, 37-30, before scoring the first five points in the final period.

Murphy finished with a team high 11 points, while Carena Easley scored six of her nine points in the fourth.

Jessica Condini sank 12 and Maggie Condini tossed in 10 for Harrison.

Mann will have the Vikings putting in overtime at the foul line after they canned only four of 12 against Harrison; Harrison made 16 of 29.

Before clashing with Saginaw Buena Vista on Thursday at home, the Vikings played out-of-conference Grosse Pointe North on Tuesday.

Earlier in the week, Keisha Young drilled a season's high 21 points to lead the Vikings to a lopsided 75-45 victory over Sterling Heights Stevenson.

Rockets snap streak

Visiting Westland John Glenn came alive in the first two minutes of the third quarter and managed to outscore out-of-conference rivals, Thurston, 9-7, en route to a 37-32 victory.

The victory snapped the Westlanders' three-game losing streak. The Rockets lost a pair at the R. U. Invitational which kicked off the 2001 season and suffered a setback at the hands of Belleville, the three-time defending Mega-Red Conference champs.

Glenn got sterling performances from multi-talented center, Sara Tyree, who pumped in 16 points and swept the boards for 19 rebounds. Teammate Bianca Woods added 11 points for the Rockets who struggled in their first three games looking for a winning combination.

The victory also avenged the earlier loss to Redford, at the R. U. Invitational.

The Rockets looked horrendous at the free throw line where Coach John Albrecht's Rockets made a mere eight of 25 offerings as compared to the Eagles' 17 of 25 performance at the charity stripe.

After visiting Adrian on Tuesday where they played one of the better teams in the state, the Rockets will launch their Western Lakes Conference basketball season at home.

Glenn will entertain Livonia Franklin.

Local high school basketball coaches are urged to report their team results from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Friday. Please contact MCN Sports Staff Writers by dialing 734-729-4000.

Twisters bounce back to beat Grizzlies

While a late summer storm thundered its way across Wayne County and brought relief to the dried out, browned out state, the Twisters whirled through, above and past the Toledo Glass Grizzlies Saturday night for their fifth win in the Lakeshore Football Conference.

Manager J. Glenn Brothers's Twisters bounced back from their first loss of the season to shut out the Grizzlies, 35-0. The victory sealed for the Twisters a post-season playoff berth.

There was never any doubt as to the outcome of this game: The Twisters struck for a total of 21 points in the opening period and didn't have to even look over their shoulders after that quarter.

Twister quarterback Rob Elswick, who looked fully recovered from a loss a week ago, completed three of four passes for 129 yards. One of Elswick's passes was a 79-yard TD strike to wide receiver Donti Hamilton. His other two completions set up rushing touchdown.

Twister running back Jason Gibson tallied from the four and 17 yards out. Gibson also cashed in on an off-tackle 11-yard sprint for touchdown No. 3.

In add salt to the Grizzlies' injury, Jaquan Wright scored on a four-yard sweep late in the fourth quarter to close out the scoring.

On the offensive stat sheet, Gibson led all rushers. He cashed in 14 carries for 101 yards and three TDs. In the meantime, teammate Farmington's Corey Davis added 81 yards on four carries to his ever improving seasonal totals, while Jaquan Wright is beginning to show his ability. The elusive ball carrier piled up 58 yards and a TD on four attempts.

In all, the Twisters offensive unit rolled up a grand total of 436 yards.

The Twisters' defense dominated the Glass City offense, forcing six punts and stopping three other attempts for first downs in short yardage situations. The Grizzlies only scoring opportunity came late in the second period when the Twisters were penalized 30 yards for protesting an official's call.

The penalties moved the ball nine-yards shy of the Twisters' goal line. Three plays later, the Grizzlies were a yard farther away and attempted a field goal. The attempt was blocked by linebacker

Bob Pensari, erasing the threat.

Pensari, joined by linebackers Chuck Lauber, Aaron Brothers, Kam Watson, Kalil Jaafar and James Chapman amassed a grand total of 18 solos and 23 assists.

Rookie Twister defensive back DeVaughn Smith had a solid performance as he counted two solos and two assists, while veterans Earl Sutton and Eric Thompson added two solos and two assists, respectively.

The Twister defense gave up a total of 159 yards on 60 plays.

Brothers takes his Twisters on the road Saturday. They'll play in Lorain County at Oberlin, Ohio. Kickoff is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Lorain is currently in second place in the South Division of the Lakeshore Football League with an impressive 4-2 record.

Belleville kickers lead cyclones to Dearborn crown

Belleville soccer standouts Kelly Williams and Katie Wagner played key roles in the Saline Cyclones' victory at the Dearborn Invitational Tournament.

The Cyclones, an Under-17 soccer squad, met and repelled an old nemesis to get to the championship round and capture the tournament title.

In last year's heartbreaking tournament, the Cyclones lost the first-place trophy in the finals - they were determined to make sure that history didn't repeat.

They managed to add another tournament gem to their long list of accomplishments this season, and they also were counting on their players from Belleville to lead the squad to yet another title.

On Friday under the lights in Dearborn, the Cyclones met and old rival, LYSC United from Livonia.

In six previous meetings, each game had been decided by a single goal and the Cyclones knew that this would be a tough game against a seasoned opponent.

With nine new players, the Cyclones had added tremendous depth to their roster, however, they had not played together as a team and were cautiously optimistic that they could overcome any obstacle.

In a duel that ended in a scoreless first half, the Cyclones came back from the intermission and drew first blood early in the second half and scored their first of two goals.

Then they went on to dominate the United by firing into the nets yet another unanswered goal.

The Cyclones then clashed with the Farmington Flash. They knew that winning this game would send them into the finals for a second straight year and provide the opportunity to erase last year's heartbreaking loss in the championship round.

The Cyclones picked up the victory.

In the championship round, the Cyclones were pitted against the LCYSA Rush from Brighton.

Now playing their fourth game together, the Cyclones were developing quickly and dominated the game early on but couldn't manage to score.

The two teams broke at intermission looking at a scoreless tie.

Increasing their pressure and playing meticulously on defense, the Cyclones scored on a corner kick and took a 1-0 lead.

With the lead established, the Cyclones continued to apply the pressure and scored a second time to go up, 2-0. They managed to protect their lead the rest of the way and secured the championship.

The Cyclones' lineup includes: Brigitte Cooper, Lydia Hall and Kelly Snyder. Also playing for the championship team are Marci Martinez, Katie Wagner, Kelly Williams, Maura Davis, Kristina Hartman, Casey Herron, Natalie Kawchak, Meghan Moore, Hannah Patterson, Kim Pearson, Megan Phillips, Krista Rogers.

Also in the lineup are Lauren Sigler, Kirsten Smart and Sarah Thiess.

The Cyclones' coaching staff consists of Bill Thiess and Mark Williams.

Deisler wins final round of golf

Wayne's Terry Deisler fired an 81 to defeat Westlander Carolyn Benninger in the First Flight, Low Gross category as the Suburban Ladies Golf League wrapped up their season in tournament play at the Links of Lake Erie.

Deisler had been a steady winner throughout the 2001 season, and remained in the lead of the pack from start to finish in the season's finale.

In the meantime, Pat Meyers carded a 66 to post the Low Net score in the First Division, while Lil Vandenbroker finished runner-up with 72.

Wayne's Mary Allen also captured the tournament title in the Second Flight, Low Net competition as she toured the course with a 67. Carol McQuade had the second best score - a 70.

In the Low Gross competition of the Second Flight, Gwen Wyr (92) posted a one-stroke victory over Penny Irwin.

In the battle for the tournament crown over in the Third Flight, the Low Net's best was Pat Wilson who surfaced with a 71, two strokes better than Westland's Mary Cunningham.

Toni Tront beat out Jan Nelson for the top honors in the Third Flight, Low Gross race. Tront finished with a 96, four strokes better than Nelson.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF VAN BUREN REGULAR BOARD MEETING MINUTES SEPTEMBER 4, 2001

Supervisor King called the meeting to order at 7:31 p.m. in the Board Room. Present: King, Payne, Budd, Hart, Herman, Jahr and Rochowiak. Absent and excused: None. Others in attendance: Recreation and Facilities Director Ross, Interim Public Safety Director Smolen, Water and Sewer Director Duha, Planning and Economic Development Director Kelley, Executive Assistant Ireland, Secretary Cline and art audience of fifteen (15).

APPROVAL OF AGENDA: Budd moved, Hart seconded to approve the agenda as presented. Carried.

PUBLIC HEARING: Jahr moved, Herman seconded to open the public hearing [to consider] establishing Industrial Development District Number 17. Carried.

The Township is in receipt of a request for, tax abatement from Ricardo Inc. an existing industrial facility, located on Samuel Barton Drive near the Tyler and Haggerty Road intersection. Ricardo is considering relocating their North American Headquarters in Van Buren Township. This would include constructing a new 76,765 square foot two (2) story facility, with a proposed investment of roughly $14,500,000. The location is not currently in an Industrial Development District (IDD) and Public Act 198, which governs tax abatements, requires the Township to establish an IDD prior to considering tax abatement. The area under consideration is approximately 9.35 acres encompassing only the site for the new proposed facility, Currently, there are four (4) other tax abatements in the Township and each are located in their own Industrial Development Districts. One of these Abatements will expire in December 2001.

There being no further discussion, a motion was made to close the public hearing.

Hart moved, Jahr seconded to close the public hearing. Carried Rochowiak moved, Payne seconded to open the public hearing (to consider the request for an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate for Ricardo Inc.). Carried.

Ricardo Inc. has requested a facilities exemption certificate seeking tax abatement for both real and personal property. They are proposing to construct a 76,765 square foot facility on their property, located on Samuel Barton Drive- The proposed initial investment is estimated at $14,500,000, with approximately $4,100,000 in personal property.

Ricardo Inc., Vice President Frank Alex gave a brief explanation of their operation. He stated they currently occupy a 34,000 square foot facility in the township. He further stated Ricardo Inc. is an engineering technology provider who undertakes design, analysis and testing of engines, transmissions, and vehicle development services on behalf of the automotive industry. This includes everything from small lawnmower engines to large locomotive engines. They have grown from $25,000,000 to about $80,000,000 in sales over the past three years. In order to continue the growth of the company they would like to establish a centralized campus in Van Buren Township to bring all of their satellite locations together. Currently there are three (3) leased satellite facilities in Plymouth and they are planning on closing those, facilities and relocating the employees to the Van Buren Township facility. They are also proposing to add approximately 60 new highly skilled professional engineering jobs over the next twelve to eighteen months to help foster the growth they have been experiencing. Last year Ricardo invested about $8,000,000 into the Van Buren Township facility and the new construction is planned to begin in the next 30 days with anticipated completion by October or November of 2002.

This facility will have a nice campus like setting, which will tie the two facilities together with canopies. There will be no outside storage, no hazardous material storage, no negative impact on air quality and no significant noise impact. Supervisor King restated the process of creating an IDD and the next step is granting an Industrial Facilities Tax Agreement (IFT). The agreement sets forth meeting objectives, target dates for completion and substantial compliance required to insure that if granted a tax abatement the company will abide by the agreement. The Township uses a previously established set of guidelines outlining the criteria used to determine the length of the IFT. Supervisor King referred to the applicants application score of 83-1/2 points, which allows for a 10-year exemption and the adoption of Resolution 2001-22 would authorize an Industrial Facilities Tax Exemption Certificate for this length to Ricardo Inc. Van Buren Township welcomes this is the type of industrial use.

A resident was concerned about the number of jobs to be, transferred from Plymouth and what effect this would have on the infrastructure due to the added traffic. Mr. Alex stated that an additional 150 jobs would be added to the Van Buren Township facility. He also stated that there are two shifts with staggered starting and ending times. This facility is roughly 80% labor related and the 20% that is engines brought by truck would be minimal at 4 to 8 delivery trucks a week.

There being no further discussion, a motion was made to close the public hearing.

Budd moved, Payne seconded to close the public hearing. Carried.

MINUTES: Rochowiak moved, Hart seconded to approve the Work Study Session Minutes of August 20, 2001, as presented. Carried.

Payne moved, Hart seconded to approve the Regular Board Meeting Minutes of August 21, 2001, as presented. Carried.

Team effort restores Belleville Lake

To the editor:

During the past several months, much has been written about the water quality of Belleville Lake in the vicinity of Ryznar Drive. Because the viability and aesthetics of this beautiful resource are of great importance to all of us, we want to make sure the community is aware of the steps that have been taken to alleviate the source of contamination.

Township officials have been in frequent contact with officials at Willow Run Airport. Airport officials, once being informed of the source of contamination, took prompt action to eliminate the source point for the contamination entering the Begole Drain that empties into Belleville Lake in the Ryznar Drive area. Future plans include a complete redesign of the fuel/water separator that has since been determined to be faulty. This redesign should eliminate the potential for future occurrences.

Township Environmental Director Brian Ballard met with City of Belleville officials to provide a status of the situation and to ensure their concerns were addressed. Finally, we, along with Director Ballard and City resident, Patrick Danna, and the affected Ryznar Drive residents, met with Senator Loren Bennett and Representative Bruce Patterson and Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) members. This meeting, arranged through Senator Bennett's office, was for the purpose of ascertaining the status of sampling and analysis performed by the State, to address concerns of the communities and affected residents, and to devise an action plan for ensuring the lake's health is protected and its aesthetic amenities restored.

This meeting, an example of how many concerned parties can come together with a mutual objective; in this case, ensuring Belleville Lake remains the jewel that it is, was very successful in developing an action plan to address lake contamination. More thorough sampling and analysis has been performed by the MDEQ, a new fuel/water separator is to be installed on airport property soon, airport officials created a Storm Water Pollution Prevention Action Plan, and aerator pumps, courtesy of Willow Run Airport, are to be installed near the residents' dock on Ryznar Drive to oxygenate the water to assist in restoring it to its former healthy condition.

We would like to express our appreciation for the efforts of Senator Bennett and Representative Patterson in ensuring this matter received the attention it deserved by state officials. We are appreciative of the MDEQ in performing additional sampling, and addressing our concerns in a thoughtful, conscientious manner. Finally, our thanks to Wayne County and Willow Run Airport for seeing a problem and taking action to eliminate it.

Sincerely,
Cindy C. King, Supervisor
Van Buren Charter Township
Thomas A. Fielder, Mayor
City of Belleville

Ordinance officer must learn boundaries

To the editor:

With the general election next, I hope everyone is thinking about who to vote for.

This was a confusing primary since only the mayoral and four-year council seats are involved in the primary, which means Bill Fern, Bob Stottlemeyer and Dennis LeMaitre will only be on the general election ballot.

It's almost comical how the political signs are popping up everywhere. I've seen two signs for one mayoral candidate in Garden City and one in Wayne for another candidate. Who doesn't know the city boundaries, the candidates or their workers?

Why do we need an ordinance officer? Will they know the boundaries, be it city or ethical?

I have a real problem with this position from the past. There seems to be a policy that if you know the right people you don't have to follow the ordinances, be they sign, building or other. Or if the signs are political or not.

Just remember, everyone's vote is important in both the primary and general elections, so take great thought and vote.
